Annual Report 2022

SCSB First Annual Student Art Competition

In October 2022 SCSB staff organized the first annual SCSB Student Art Competition. Almost 400 unique pieces of artwork were submitted by Utah charter students ranging from kindergarten to high school and 36 different schools. Art pieces included paintings, sculptures, collages, and other art forms. The winning entry, judged by the SCSB staff and board, is featured on the cover of this annual report. Congratulations to Kimari Perng! Honorable mentions are highlighted throughout the report. The SCSB board staff is both amazed at the quality of art produced by these students and grateful to the teachers who support them on their educational journey.

Title: Beautifully Broken

Note of inspiration submitted by artist:

“My art assignment was to create a collage that says something about me, and I immediately thought of my family. They play such a significant role in my life and their endless love and support have brought me to where I am today. I created a collage of my sister's and mom's hands to symbolize their constant support, and most of the background papers represent something about me or my family. The artwork is called "Beautifully Broken" because my family consists of me, my sister, and my mom. We may not be considered a traditional family unit, and people may categorize us as "broken" but we are a beautiful family nonetheless.”

Executive Director Message

Every strong organization periodically reflects on their purpose, mission, and strategic vision. In September 2022 the SCSB staff and board members participated in a board review and training led by Dr. James Goenner of the National Charter Schools Institute and Mr. Mark Comanducci of the 305 Education Group. The purpose of this retreat was to reaffirm our mission and vision, reflect on our values, listen to our stakeholders, and envision a bright future for Utah charter schools.

One of the most important conversations centered on value-based authorizing. In the past, the SCSB values (Students First, Choice, Innovation, Academic Excellence, Autonomy and Accountability) were focused on advancing the charter school movement which they did quite successfully. As the largest authorizer in the state of Utah and the nation, we are proud of our 126-school portfolio and credit our laser-focused values and mission statement. To move us to the next phase, our staff went through the delicate task of reassessing what values truly matter the most to the SCSB's work as an authorizer. The new guiding values of Trust, Excellence, Impact, Authenticity, and Compassion were adopted by the SCSB Board in October and give everyone in the SCSB community a roadmap for all our interactions. Our values go beyond our offices and boardroom. We expect the schools we authorize to share in these values.

Throughout this Annual Report for SY 2022, there will be many examples of the SCSB's values at work. The next page gives a framework for each value. The report follows with the Excellence and Impact displayed in our school portfolio, moves to the Trust and Compassion required to support schools, and the Authenticity of the organization shines throughout. The SCSB is looking towards the future with our core values guiding the way.

Utah State Charter School Board Values: A Roadmap for Our Organization

Excellence

We continue to be the best charter authorizer in the state and a model to authorizers across the country. We do not settle for average and celebrate high achievement. We learn and grow from mistakes and adjust when necessary. What we do, we do well.

Authenticity

We stay true to our mission and vision regardless of pressures to act otherwise. We are transparent and honest to our stakeholders. We do what we say we are going to do and be what we commit to be.

Compassion

We show kindness and respect while holding schools accountable. Compassion does not change the actions we take but the way we take those actions.

Trust

We are accountable to the people of Utah to authorize and oversee good schools. Great trust is placed in us to hold schools accountable. At times this means making hard decisions, which cannot be passed to any other entity. To quote President Truman, "The buck stops here."

Impact

The work of an authorizer is far more than bureaucratic regulation. We oversee compliance and performance in order to provide guardrails for authorized schools and pathways to success.

We believe that value-based authorizing will lead to great charter schools and better outcomes for Utah students.

Charter School Locations for SY 2022

Utah charter school locations stretch from Logan to St. George and from Vernal to Tooele. The highest concentration of SCSB schools is along the Wasatch Front and corresponds to the state’s most populous communities. The SCSB has charter agreements with 103 distinct LEAs (local education agencies governed by a school board) that allow a charter school to receive public funds for education. Some of these LEAs have multiple campuses or both elementary and secondary schools, therefore the total number of schools in the SCSB portfolio is 126 schools. While the SCSB is the largest charter authorizer in Utah and one of the largest in the country, there are other charter authorizers in Utah that add 9 non-SCSB schools for a total of 137 charter schools in Utah.

Charter School Education Models

A primary purpose of charter schools is to provide learning opportunities that match the unique needs of students. Whether a student would learn best in a hands-on farm-based school in West Valley, an art and performance school in St. George, or online within the privacy of their own home, there is a charter school that can meet those educational models. When charters first started in Utah, there were very few options. Now there are many different models meeting diverse student needs. These models can be grouped into 11 broad categories. Over the last two decades a shift in priorities of students and parents has occurred.

Early charter schools tended to adhere to classical models and are leadership focused. In more recent years there has been an increase in models reflecting the community’s desire for students to be prepared for the jobs of the 21st century. In addition, many parents show a growing interest in whole-child models. The SCSB works with state agencies and communities to identify future markets and authorize charter schools that reflect the priorities and interests of Utah.

Charter School Enrollment Trend Data

For SY 23 the total enrollment for Utah charter schools is 78,732 students. This number represents approximately 11% of all K-12 students in Utah. Charter schools added 1,060 students in SY 23 or 1.4% year over year growth. For perspective, the entire state of Utah only added 299 students in SY 23 or 0.04% of growth. The relatively impressive charter school enrollment growth also corresponds with a lower student transfer rate (7%) and a higher student retention rate (83%) when compared to past years. Both indicators suggests that charter school enrollment has stabilized after the pandemic disrupted public education.

Charter School Enrollment by Grade

The grade distribution follows a familiar pattern for charter schools with higher enrollment in the elementary school years followed by a gradual decline. This year about 64% of charter students are in elementary grades (K-6), followed by 19% in middle school (7-8), and 24% in high school. Recent demographic data suggests that Utah’s student enrollment trends may be changing. USBE predicts that in 2024 the kindergarten class will be smaller than the graduating 12th grade class for the first time in many years.

Charter School Grades Structure

Utah charter schools have more flexibility than district schools when designing their grade structure. The SCSB charter agreement does not have set parameters for elementary, middle, and high school grade bands. Therefore, charters can have many different school grade structures that fit their unique missions. Looking at the graph below, the elementary models (K-6) and elementary combined with middle school models (K-7, K-8, K-9) represent the majority of Utah charter schools (64%).

Utah Charter Student Demographics

SY 2023
White	65.3%
Hispanic	23.6%
Multiple Ethnicities	4.2%
Asian	3.2%
Pacific Islander	1.6%
Black	1.6%
Native American	0.5%

Nationally, charter schools have a reputation for providing educational choice for underserved populations. A 2019 US Department of Education survey found approximately 60% of all charter students identified as either Black or Hispanic. Utah’s charter schools are also moving towards more diversity. In the 2022-2023 school year, almost 35% of charter students identify as ethnic minorities.

Furthermore, Utah charter schools have a slightly higher percentage of English learners and special education students than traditional district schools. Equally important, as shown in the next sections, charter schools provide students in all subgroups an excellent education with higher RISE test scores, graduation rates, and ACT performance compared to their district peers.

Utah State Report Card Analysis

In October 2022 the USBE released their annual state report card to evaluate school performance during the 2021-2022 school year. The full methodology used to calculate the rankings can be found on the USBE Assessments and Accountability webpage. The chart below gives a basic summary.

Elementary School Performance Metrics	High School Performance Metrics
1. RISE Proficiency	1-4. Elementary Performance Metrics
2. RISE Growth	5. Graduation rates
3. EL Performance	6. ACT scores
4. Growth of Lowest 25% of students	7. Advanced coursework

The SY 2022 USBE Accountability Report shows a positively skewed dataset for charter school performance. Approximately 84% of SCSB charter schools received a 'C' or better. Four charter schools, or 2.9% of the SCSB portfolio, received an 'F' ranking. Comparatively, about 90% of Utah traditional district schools received a 'C' ranking or better and only 1.4% of USBE district schools scored an 'F' ranking. Individual charter school rankings are shown on the next page.

RISE/Aspire Plus Data

RISE/Aspire Plus Data Summary

◆ Denotes Utah state average

- The RISE assessments are given each spring to Utah students in 3rd through 8th grade in English language arts (ELA), math, and science. Utah 9th and 10th graders are assessed with the Aspire Plus test. The data in the graphs represents an average proficiency score using both assessments.
- On average, charter schools perform lower on each state accountability test than district schools, especially in mathematics. This trend was observed prior to the pandemic and continued in 2022.
- In SY 22 charter schools decreased the proficiency gap in math and science but remained about 2% lower on ELA assessments versus school districts.
- The SCSB acknowledges that RISE and Aspire Plus scores represent only one indicator of school success.

RISE Subgroup Performance Summary

- Charter students outperformed their district counterparts in almost every subject for tracked subgroups. Most notably, EL students performed on average 4.8% higher on state RISE tests versus non-charter EL students.
- Low income and ethnic minority charter students outperformed their district counterparts on all three RISE subject tests.
- Charter SPED students were 3.3% higher on RISE ELA tests than district SPED students.

RISE/Aspire Performance of Charter Students Compared to District Peers

	ELA	Math	Science
English Learners (EL)	+ 5%	+ 6%	+3.5%

Acadience Data Summary

- ◆ Denotes Utah state average
- The graph represents the percent of K-3 students at benchmark at the beginning of the year (BOY), middle of the year (MOY), and end of year (EOY) Acadience assessments.
- There was no statistical difference in Acadience performance between charter students and district students.

SCSB History

Charter schools have been an integral part of Utah's educational landscape since 1999. The Utah State Legislature created the SCSB in 2004 as an appointed board dedicated to authorization, oversight, and support of charter schools. The SCSB authorizes new schools; holds existing charter schools accountable for their performance in accordance with statutes, administrative rules, and each school's unique charter agreement; and supports schools to develop and grow into effective organizations. In the first year the state began with 6 charter schools. We entered a time of intense growth. Over the next decade dozens of new school applications were received every year, and nearly 70 new schools opened. Since then, we've seen a decrease in new school applications (with only three submitted in SY23). While there are over 100 charter schools in existence, the decline in applications has prompted us to become more proactive in our approach. We are entering an exciting era for Utah's charter schools where quantity can be refined into quality choices.

SCSB Organization

The Utah State Charter School Board is comprised of 7 governor-appointed members who provide expertise in educational leadership, pedagogy and innovation, law, and business.

The board is supported by a dedicated team of professionals from a variety of backgrounds that provides support through the authorization process, evaluation and performance measuring, and remediation.

The SCSB authorizes 92% of all charter schools in Utah (126 schools)

What is a charter authorizer?

A charter authorizer is an entity approved by the Utah State Legislature to be a conduit through which charter schools can receive public funds. Authorizers set up application processes and approve or deny charter school applications. Most importantly, authorizers are accountable for setting academic and operational expectations, monitoring charter schools according to those expectations, and taking remedial action when those expectations are not met. The following entities may authorize a charter school in Utah:

Utah SCSB: EXCELLENCE IN AUTHORIZING

The SCSB is committed to being the best charter school authorizer in the state of Utah. We do this by providing rigorous oversight and supportive oversight.

New Schools, Satellites, and Expansions in SY22

The SCSB has been given the power by the Utah legislature to authorize new charter schools, allow existing schools to build satellite campuses, and grant charter schools the ability to expand and offer additional grades. The SCSB uses established metrics and guidelines to inform decision making for each of these requests. More information about the new charter school, satellite, and expansion process can be found on the SCSB website.

SCSB Trainings and Support

One look at the SCSB webpage, UCAP site, or SCSB YouTube page will show the strong commitment of the SCSB to training and support. The SCSB staff provides extensive trainings for charter school board members, teachers, business managers, school leaders. In addition, monthly directors' meetings provide valuable resources and opportunities to connect with peers. Furthermore, SCSB staff works with individual schools, both in-person and virtually, to give targeted guidance. In SY22, the SCSB Board made communicating with schools a priority. The SCSB School Support team delivered on this goal. The School Support team, in combination with the Remediation team, provide SCSB charter schools many pathways to success.

Values-Based School Oversight

The continued success of charter schools is the primary goal of the SCSB Remediation Team. Charter school oversight is accomplished in two ways. First, the team operates within the Charter School Accountability Framework (CSAF) to identify schools that may require remediation. Second, some concerns are common across our school portfolio and are remedied through targeted campaigns to help all schools. The following pages summarize the work of our oversight team in SY22.

CSAF Summary for SY22

Active Closures 0	Active Probations <sup>3</sup> 1	Active Warnings 2	Active Notices of Concern 21
-----------------------------	--	-----------------------------	--

SCSB Campaigns

The SCSB uses campaigns to address widespread compliance issues within the school portfolio. Each campaign begins with extensive conversations with legal counsel and a plan to efficiently review charter school compliance. In SY22 the SCSB focused Open and Public Meetings Act (OPMA) and School Fees.

OPMA Campaign Outcome

The OPMA campaign was started in 2021 after an audit found few charter schools to be in full compliance with OPMA. Common issues included missing board meeting minutes and budgets, unnoticed board meetings, and missing website links for board meeting information. The SCSB provided board member and director trainings, while also working with schools individually to resolve any OPMA concerns. At the conclusion of this campaign, over 95% of our school portfolio was in full compliance with OPMA regulations.

School Fees Campaign Outcome

The School Fees/Volunteer Hours campaign started in the spring of 2022 after SCSB and USBE staff found that many charter schools were not in compliance with school fees law. Primarily, schools were adding language that required volunteer hours to maintain enrollment which is not allowed. At the beginning of the campaign, over 75 charter schools had variations of volunteer or fee requirements. By working with schools, the SCSB has seen a large increase in updated policies and compliance. The School Fees campaign is currently ongoing, as of December 2022. The SCSB thanks all our charter schools for their attention to this important law that aims to give equitable education to all students.
